- Rewards redemptions with multiple items may be delivered separately.
- You will be required to provide a valid daytime telephone number in order to complete your redemption.

- You may have your reward delivered to someone else according to the delivery terms set out in this section. However, your email address and daytime telephone number are still required.

2. Return Policy

- You have thirty (30) days from the receipt of an item (or ten (10) business days for jewellery items) to request a return. Please contact the CIBC Rewards Centre for return instructions prior to returning the item to ensure you will receive a full credit. Rewards merchandise must be returned in the original manufacturer's packaging and accompanied by a copy of the original packing slip.
- Please note these items cannot be returned: earrings, clothing, bedding, linens, towels, electronics, opened CDs, DVDs, or games. There are no returns on clearance items or as noted on any item description.
- In the event that merchandise arrives damaged or there are missing pieces, the merchandise will be replaced without charge if it is reported to CIBC Rewards Centre within five (5) business days of receipt. A CIBC Rewards Representative will provide a Return Authorization Number. Each returned item must be in the original manufacturer's packaging and accompanied by a copy of the original packing slip. Item defects that have been identified after initial use will not be accepted for return and will be sent back to you to be handled according to the applicable manufacturer's warranty.

- Once the Return Authorization Number has been issued with instructions, you have fifteen (15) business days to return the item in question. Returns will not be accepted after the fifteen (15) business day term regardless of previous return authorizations.
